A Season of Cleansing

In most of the places where the Scriptures speak of “a spring,” they are speaking of a natural spring of water. As I am composing words now for the March issue of the Ivy Vine, a thought has come to me that (in the Northern Hemisphere) the month of March will include the first days of Spring 2021. Technically, Spring begins here on March 20. Many times, the arrival of warmer weather is an occasion when folks do some “spring cleaning” at home. When milder weather truly settles in, we can open some windows and wash up the house a bit. This lets in some fresh air and gives our homes a bright, clean appearance. Please don’t get too excited about this just yet, though. It’s going to be awhile before we truly put this winter behind us. However, spring will come.

Well, friends, I believe that this notion of “spring cleaning” came to me because it fits in with a central theme of Lent. A primary focus during Lent is an appeal to God for “cleansing” from sin. It was fairly recently that God’s Church began this Lenten Season. The season is 40 days long. Lent recalls the fasts of Moses, Elijah and Jesus; each of which lasted for 40 days. In connection with this and for many additional reasons, the number 40 is considered a sacred, biblical number.

The name for our current Christian Church Season is derived from Anglo-Saxon words “lencten” meaning “spring”, and “lenctentid” meaning “spring-tide” (which also was the name of the month of March). There are 7 Sundays between Ash Wednesday and Easter Sunday. These Sundays are not counted as official days of Lent. As a result, the season lasting from Ash Wednesday through Holy Saturday (the day before Easter) adds up to a total of 40 days.

The psalm traditionally read on Ash Wednesday is Psalm 51. This psalm abounds with “cleansing” imagery. “Have mercy...blot out my transgressions... wash me...cleanse me...purge me with hyssop, then I shall be clean...wash me...create in me a clean heart, O God.” All of this and more appears in Psalm 51.

We make things overly complicated much of the time. How about Lent? Yes, we tend to make Lent too complicated. The simple basis for the Lenten Season is repentance. Yet we must be careful not to get it backwards. The order is not (1) repent, and (2) we will be forgiven. If there is an “order” at all, it is (1) we are forgiven, we are cleansed already; therefore, (2) we repent.

We repent, not “in order to be forgiven;” we repent “out of” gratitude that God already has offered us forgiveness. Crucial to the whole picture is God's grace. This ties in closely with Christ's petition from the Cross: "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing." (Luke 23:34)

A basic approach will do. Boil it down. Plain and simple. You are cleansed. Repent.

Streamline. God wants to cleanse you. Actually, God already has! Simple, uncomplicated truth. "Cleansing" is a gift from God. Just accept it.

On the road to Calvary, Jesus paused to teach. On the road with Jesus, determined people of faith let nothing impede Christ's Mission—not a huge crowd, not even a high roof! (Luke 5:17-26) Jesus astounded people with his authority and love when he forgave the sins and healed the limbs of a paralyzed man. Jesus' authority and love are inseparable. Like the paralytic, we are forgiven and healed. Like the crowd watching, we praise the miraculous power of Christ.

God is inviting us to approach Lent 2021 in this spirit. Indeed, there are aspects to Lent which are not attractive. Honest self-examination is necessary, but this can be enormously difficult to engage in. Taking a genuine look at ourselves reveals truths that we may prefer not to see. However, we cannot merely brush this off and take these forty sacred days lightly. Lent cannot be all goodness and light; for then it would not be truly Lent. There is a degree of unpleasantness and struggle involved in every genuine, spiritual pilgrimage. But don't despair. Personal faith struggles often lead to growth. Ultimately, each Lenten Season leads to some version of this astonishing joy: God loves me, flaws and all. Alleluia!

Simplify. This Lent, try a basic approach. "Un-complicate." Receive God's cleansing. The rest is excess. Streamline. Boil it down. "Cleansing."

Now is the time for you and me to begin. During Lent, we can make our way toward Resurrection Joy by engaging in "a spring cleaning of the soul." This will take far

Thank You to the Helpers

This past year has been a year like no other. Without in-person worship and Sunday School, the Christian Education Board and many helpers have been working hard to stay connected with the young people of Ivy Chapel.

We have mailed and emailed Sunday school lessons.

We have hand-delivered activity kits and treats for special church holidays and seasons.

We have given a children's message during each virtual worship service.

A large group of volunteers has helped to deliver God's love to the children and young people while we have to be apart.

The kids made thank you notes that the board is mailing to the volunteers as a small token of appreciation.

A big thank you everyone who helped and is continuing to help!

Lenten Food Drive

The food drive is a great way to help so many people in our community. Pick up a few extra items when you go to the store. Or donate money to help the food pantries buy supplies for their clients. Every little bit helps!

The food drive continues through Easter.

You can drop off your donations in the giant soup can in the narthex at Ivy Chapel, or you can send monetary donations to Peter LaSalle. Make checks out to Ivy Chapel and write Lenten Food Drive on the memo line.

The Note

My dad likes to say If it wasn't for bad luck, we'd have no luck at all. I think I have written about how we are not lucky people. It seems that things just aren't easy for us. I'm often jealous of those that seem to just have things go right for them while we are working hard and just trying to survive. However, I forever an optimist, do not need to look far to see how fortunate we are. I am so thankful for our family. Even though we do not live close, we are so fortunate to have a large extended family who loves us very much. While playing Ash Wednesday services, it occurred to me that 10 years ago, was my very first Ash Wednesday service at Ivy Chapel. So many things have happened in those 10 years, but it reminded me that I am thankful for you. It makes me think that perhaps others look at us and wonder why we have it so easy. It reminds me to just be nice to others, you might not know what they are going through. While writing this, I found myself singing the lyrics to I Then Shall Live:

I then shall live as one who's learned compassion;
I've been so loved that I'll risk loving too.
I know how fear builds walls instead of bridges;
I dare to see another's point of view.
And when relationships demand commitment,
Then I'll be there to care and follow through.

I am so excited to see you all again. I hope that we will be able to be in person soon (maybe even this month!) I am looking forward to being vaccinated. I am extremely thankful to hear that many of you are currently in the process of receiving the vaccine. On a personal note, my parents have received their vaccine. Yay! Unfortunately, it is still not safe for the chancel choir to return. If you are interested in performing in the music ministry at Ivy Chapel in any way, please do not hesitate to contact me. I am so looking forward to working with you all again soon! In the meantime, do me a favor and quit making it look so easy. All my love to you all.

Smiles,

CHILDREN'S MESSAGE OPPORTUNITY

The Christian Education board is asking for volunteers to deliver the children's message for Sunday morning worship. There is an opportunity for everyone to share God's word with Ivy Chapel's young people during worship. Right now the services are virtual, and are streamed and recorded from the sanctuary each Sunday morning. Please consider signing up for one Sunday, or one Sunday a month. We have many print and online sources available if you need ideas or inspiration. Any time you can give is appreciated. Contact Sarah Heend to reserve your date.

Let's get started this Lent, and then keep going. In the wilderness of this 40-day spiritual journey, may we turn toward God. May we accept God's cleansing. May we follow Christ more nearly; day by day by day by day by day...
